

4.4 Training activities you must complete

Doctoral training at UPV includes, in addition to the completion of the doctoral thesis, the completion of a number of training activities, specific and transversal. Each one of them will have a valuation in equivalent hours. To be able to defend the doctoral thesis it will be an indispensable requirement to have completed at least 600 hours, of which a minimum of a 10 percent (60h) will correspond to transversal training courses.

4.4.1 The specific activities

4.4.2 The transversal activities offered from the Doctoral School

4.4.3 Recognition of transversal training obtained outside the Doctoral School
