2.9.1. Can I access databases and other electronic resources from outside UPV?

In order to access the electronic collection, you must be connected to the university network. Therefore, if you are outside the UPV, you must set up a virtual private network (VPN). Please note the option that must be activated to access to databases, journals and electronic books subscribed by the Library.

Part of the electronic resources also allow access with your UPV username and password, through the R edIRIS Resource Identity Service (RIS).

You can find these access ways in PoliBuscador.
