

3.1.3. Can I access the Library if I am not a member of the university?

The UPV libraries have free access to consult the books and use their facilities from Monday to Friday.

The Valencia Central Library and the Gandia Campus Library are also open on weekends and some holidays. In addition to the UPV community, members of the UJI and students from affiliated centers (Berklee College of Music, EDEM and Florida Universitària) can access these libraries during these periods. If you do not belong to any of these groups you can request a special permission.

This permission is NOT VALID during exam periods.

It is important to check the calendars of the different libraries for opening hours and access conditions.
