

7.8.1. What is PoliPapers?

PoliPapers is UPV's platform for publishing and managing scientific journals. This is a service provided by the Publisher and UPV Library to promote open access publication of digital journals in the institution, following the guidelines set out in UPV's Open Access Institutional Policy.

The digital platform where the electronic journals are hosted is managed with the free PKP \(Public Knowledge Project\) Open Journal Systems \(OJS\) software.

The Library carries out three lines of work: personal advice for agents in the publishing process: editors, authors, reviewers, etc. Visibility and increased impact tasks. Platform maintenance and support, including flows to obtain the DOI or the originality report.
