7.7.8. What are the FAIR principles in relation to research data?

These principles aim to make data Findable, Accessible, Interoperable and Reusable.

Typically, funding agencies with research data policies stress the importance of research data being FAIR, so these principles should be taken into account when preparing the Data Management Plan (DMP) report.